

The 3rd International Conference on Advances In Microfluidics and Nanofluidics (AMN 2012)

第三届国际微纳流控学进展学术会议

May 23-26 2012 Dalian China

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

AMN 2012 is an international conference with special focus on research activities in the Pacific Rim. The scope of the conference is aimed to be deliberately broad and interdisciplinary, encompassing the latest advances in microfluidics and nanofluidics by bring together the leading international experts and researchers in this area.

Topics

- Fundamentals in microfluidics and nanofluidics
- Micro/nano fabrication techniques
- Lab-on-a-chip related technology
- Fluidic microactuators and mixing
- Novel microseparation and detections
- Applications in chemistry, physics, engineering, materials and biomedical fields

Invited Speakers (Partial list)

Prof. Yoshinobu Baba	Nagoya University, Japan
Prof. Hsueh-Chia Chang	University of Notre Dame, USA
Prof. Jing Cheng	Tsinghua University, China
Prof. Qun Fang	Zhejiang University, China
Prof. Takehiko Kitamori	The University of Tokyo, Japan
Prof. Luke P. Lee	University of California, USA
Prof. James L. Lee	The Ohio State University, USA
Prof. Dongqing Li	University of Waterloo, Canada
Prof. Patrick Tabeling	ESPCI, Paris, France
Prof. David A. Weitz	Harvard University, USA
Prof. Aaron Wheeler	University of Toronto, Canada
Prof. Pengyuan Yang	Fudan university, China
Prof. Leslie Y. Yeo	Monash University, Australia
Prof. Hanfa Zou	Dalian Institute of Chemical Physics, China

IMPORTANT DATES

- Abstract Submission Deadline
April 30, 2012
- Early Registration Deadline
March 15, 2012
